Sea Dragon

First, Maya was a young girl, who dreamt of adventure. Her parents died when she was five years and she lived with Joy, her little sister, at their grandfather's house.

At the beginning, her grandfather felt seriously ill, he went to hospital and left the two girls alone.

Later, Joy found a mysterious map in the attic. She decided to meet her neighbor, Gilles, an old retired sailor, on the beach to show him the map and ask him to come with her.

Then, a few days later, Joy and Gilles boarded the boat and Maya followed them, hidden on the boat.

The journey was long, Maya was still hidden when suddenly, the boat began to move violently from right to left. Maya was forced to go back up and was surprised to see that Gilles was no longer on board.

She saw him drowning in the middle of the sea, the waves must have capsized him.

In the end, a dragon emerged from the sea and saved Gilles. Thanks to Gilles' s fall, the dragon was discovered.

Mistakes are the door to discoveries